The Little Daughters of the Sacred Heart

The Little Daughters of the Sacred Heart is a group of Catholic mothers who strive to truly embrace our vocation as the primary means of our sanctification. We believe that God has given mothers such a beautiful path to holiness, but one that in our present world is greatly misunderstood and undervalued. Sometimes it is difficult for women to see that when they wash clothes, clean a toilet, or hold a fussy child out of love for Christ and their families, that they have performed a holy action. In fact, we believe that since many of our actions as wives and mothers are hidden, even despised, they are especially awesome in God's eyes.

We believe that God has entrusted us with a particular mission to mothers in our time and that He wants to pour out His heart on us that we might "bind up the wounded, give sight to the blind, unstop the ears of the deaf and cause the lame to walk." (Isaiah 35:5,6)

In the manner of St. Therese of Lisieux, we offer our daily sacrifices and duties to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, turning these hidden tasks into a means of obtaining grace and merit for mothers who urgently need it, but cannot or do not obtain it for themselves.

We are completely faithful to the Magisterium, devoted to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and under the patronage of Our Lady of Guadalupe and St. Therese of Lisieux.

"Jesus, I want to love with Your Heart. I desire to be Your Hands to bring healing to this world. Give me, I beg You, Your Eyes today Lord, that I may see You in those You have entrusted to my care. When someone calls to me, complains or whines, I desire to hear Your voice beckoning me. If I grow weary of the constant demands of my vocation, refresh me with the grace to understand that you do not ask me to carry this cross alone. Enable me to find You beside me in the midst of my daily duties and struggles, and please elevate them to Your Holy Heart."
